

Infor Motion Dashboards

Dashboards go mobile

Business dashboards, which present a unified graphical display incorporating key business status information in a format that's easy to read, are most valuable when they go where you go and show the information that you need. Now you can take advantage of the next breakthrough in information delivery—business dashboards that you can use wherever you go via the popular Apple® iPad® platform or a web browser. Whether your work involves sales analytics, shop floor inspections, or working at remote facilities, Infor™ Motion Dashboards software now allows you to work effectively wherever you go.

Get experience that counts

Infor Motion Dashboards, built as an integrated part of the sophisticated Infor ION Business Intelligence platform, delivers the ultimate solution for doing more efficient business on the go. It represents the culmination of decades of industry-specific experience and thousands of implementations at companies like yours. We know how important it is to master the exact details of your industry and the needs of the customers you serve. We built Infor Motion Dashboards to sharpen your view of your business process so that you can keep track of what's happening in your business anywhere, any time.

See intelligence in motion

Infor Motion Dashboards software extends the power of your Infor Enterprise Performance Management applications to popular mobile technologies, through the iPad platform, a standard browser, or both. You can create, view, and modify dashboards on either platform, then use or modify those dashboards again for whichever platform suits your needs. You can also share dashboards with other people and customize dashboards created by others to suit your specific requirements.

With Infor Motion Dashboards, you can monitor any business goal, including sales, production, finance, field service, or other specialized purpose. You can even create a special dashboard for a specific situation, such as a sales presentation or board meeting.

The Infor Motion Dashboards solution can integrate with your Infor ION infrastructure, which means that the data displayed in any dashboard reflects real-time data pulled from your business systems, including ERP, EAM, CRM, financials, or any other system connected to your ION network, including non-Infor solutions.

Infor Motion Dashboards software integrates naturally with the content that you create with Infor ION BI Application Studio. It draws on the data sources and report structures that you use there and allows you to rapidly create dashboards that suit your specific requirements. If your systems are connected to Infor ION Business Analytics, you'll also get the benefit of a highly focused collection of pre-built content that you can access immediately.

With advanced graphical design and a highly usable interface, Infor Motion Dashboards software demonstrates how a beautiful, visually appealing presentation of your business data not only makes that data easier to use as a business tool, it also makes you more informed, effective, and efficient. You'll be proud to show your dashboards to your management, your colleagues, and your customers and feel confident that you have the right data at hand to do your job.

Move forward faster

Infor Motion Dashboards technology puts your information where the action is—that is to say, wherever you are. You'll be able to work faster by combining full access to the power of your Infor business software with the mobility, flexibility, and simplicity of the iPad platform, because you'll always have information when and where you can gain the greatest value from it. As an extension to Infor ION Business Intelligence and Infor ION Business Analytics, Infor Motion Dashboards software helps you take care of business when and where it matters most.

Take advantage of the next breakthrough in information delivery—business dashboards that you can use wherever you go via the popular Apple iPad platform or a standard web browser.
